RELEASED FROM BLACKWELL'S ISLAND YESTER.

DAY-MR. GERRY'S SOCIETY DOES NOT WANT HER TO SEE HER CHILDREN. The great materializer of spirit pictures, Madame Diss Debar, is again at large, and the community is filled with anxiety as to the way she will assume in her future career. After being a guest of Warden Pilsbury, at the penitentiary on Blackwell's Island, for six months, Ann O'Della Salomon, alias Diss Debar alias Editos Latte, Montag, was released year. Debar, alias Editha Lollta Montez, was released yesterday morning, her "time" having expired. prisoners at the island, after having served their erms, are customarily discharged from custody in ime to take the steam-launch which starts for New-York at half past 8, and the "medium" who starred one of New-York's famous criminal cases was no exception to the rule. she had supplied herself, through agents, with a scoming outfit of clothing to replace the striped bed-ticking apparel which adorned her person while she was engaged in the sombre occupation of making shrougs for the dead of the city's charges. Diss Debar arose yesterday morning she donned her "awning" suit for the last time during term she has just served. She was taken to the office, where she was formally discharged, after being weighed, and received the articles she brought with her when she was committed. Among these effects were two breastpins, a pencil-case, a gold ring, 37 cents in cash and some "spirit communications." Her weight, it was shown, was greater than when she was admitted, it having increased from 295 pounds

After she had been discharged she retir matron's room, and after a time returned in her new Her outfit had been gotten up without regard to expense, yet the general effect, devoid as it was of grace, could hardly be termed charming. She were a black silk gown, a rich plush sacque, with a small cape of black lace, and a black velvet bonnet, being set jauntily on the back of her When she came back into the warden's office Mr. Marsh's nephew, Douglas A. Stewart, was awaiting her, and at once approached her and offered his congratulations. Mr. Stewart's good wishes were rereived by the dethroned princess with as much dignity as she could command, but with hardly the cordiality ey deserved. Without further delay, Madame Diss Debar, escorted by the nephew of the lawyer over om she has gained so much power, and by Keeper Kennedy, left the prison and walked down the gravel path to the landing place of the launch Wickham.

Neither Mr. Stewart nor the woman were at all mmunicative, and Madame Diss Debar showed her version to the press by feigning deafness whenever the was approached by a reporter. As soon as the party had gone aboard the launch Mr. Stewart took is heavy colleague into the cabin, and they sat there stlence through the entire trip. Once the young man was heard whispering to her, but after she had told him in sharp tones to "shut up," he kept quiet. The medium was evidently anxious not to utter word which might be given to the public. At the foot of East Fifty-second-st. a cab was awaiting the released prisoner and she and her companion entered it and drove rapidly away. They went up Fifty-second-st. to Second-ave., to Fifty-sixth-st., to Madison-ave., and then, to the astonishment of those who were observing their movements, to the house of Archbishop Corrigan. The woman alighted, went into the Episcopal home, but remained there ply a moment, without being received. The cab lawyer, John B. Townsend, who was not at home At the Standard Theatre building Mrs. Salomon looked her other lawyer, John B. Boyd, without finding him, and the cab then proceeded to Mr. Townsend's office down town, in the Emigrant Savings Bank While she was waiting there a messenger came out and took a letter to the office of Elbridge

Hon. Elbridge T. Gerry, President Society Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

Dear Sir: Mrs. Diss behar has called at my office and is now here. She has requested me to write to you and ask where her children are and when she can see them. Of course she desires to do so at the carliest convent Yours truly,

JOHN D. TOWNSEND. Commissioner Gerry's answer was:

Commissioner Gerry's answer.

John D. Townsend, esq.:

Dear Sir: In reply to your letter of this date relative to the children formerly in the custody of Mrs. Diss Debar, I have simply to say that they are at the present time in good health and are being properly cared for and educated pursuant to the order of the Court. It is not deemed advisable at the present time that she should have access to them. I have the honor to remain. ELERIDGE T. GERRY, President and Secretary.

and Mr. Stewart went uptown again and were lost sight of. At Mr. Marsh's house last evening it was sight of. At Mr. Marsh's house last evening it was tenied that she had been there or was expected. It has been said that the "medium" will call at the foot of East Fifty-second-st, this morning to meet "General" Diss Dobar, who will be released to-day. Frank Hall, the Philadelphian, who has managed several walking matches, called at Elackwell's Island on Monday and is supposed to have arranged with the couple to manage a lecturing tour through the country.

POLICE COMMISSIONERS PUZZLED.

A LETTER THAT DOES NOT EXPLAIN ITSELF-THE BOARD HAS A MILD WHANGLE

Police Commissioners had a mild wrangle yes terday over a motion by Mr. Voorhis to have the meetings of the Board public. Mr. French said that the transaction of business would not be hastened if each Commissioner kept a chip on his shoulder and argued at the meetings for the sake of the effect which his words might have in print. Mr. McClave said that if the Democratic members of the Board wished to have the reporters present in order to bring up the question of appointing a successor to John J. O'Brien, Chief of the Eureau of Elections, ho would move for a public session for that purpose at any time. Mr. Voorhis's motion was defeated.

Superintendent Murray sent to the Board a report upon the fathere of police justices to hold for trial the poolsellers who have been arrested in the city Counsel, who was asked to decide if the poolsellers could not be indicted and brought to trial the help of the police justices. District-Attorney Fellows is to be asked to co-operate with the police in such a plan. Mr. Murray said he was determined to break up poolselling in New-York if such a thing was possible. Several lawyers recently complained that they were obliged to give fees to Policeman Ketchale, in the Fifty-seventh-st. Police Court, in order to get information there.

A letter from William H. Arnoux, counsel for the committee for the enforcement of law in the Society for the Prevention of Crime, asked for a list of the bondsmen of Superintendent Murray and In-spectors Steers and Williams. Mr. Arnoux wrote that he desired the information in view of the near approach of the masked ball season. The list of bondsmen will be furnished to the lawyer, but the police officials are puzzied by the request. If the Society intends to proceed against Mr. Murray and the two district inspectors in an effort to suppress masked balls, it is not known at Headquarters how the bondsmen could be implicated.

The committee of ministers appointed at the recent Chickering Hall Conference to formulate some plan minations in this city, met in the committee-room of the Bible House yesterday afternoon. The Rev. The bables' and women's wards of the Post-Graduate Hospital are in need of funds to pay their current expenses. These wards have done a worthy work in the last year in taking care of infants and poor women needing grave surgical operations. The babies' ward was the first attempt of the kind in this city to care for young infants. Checks may be sent to Dr. W. Ollver Moore, No. 226 East Twentieth-st.

Seventy Catholic priests, representing the churches north of Fourteenth-st and west of Fifth-ave., and those of Rockland, Ulster, Orange and Sullivan counties, assembled yesterday in St. Michael's Roman Catholic Church, Thirty-second-st. and Ninth-ave., for the first of the quarterly conferences of the clergy of the Archdiocese. Archibishop Corrigan presided, assisted by the Right Rev. Arthur J. Donnelly, vicar-Xavier's Church, acted as moderator. The Rev. Thomas F. McManus, of St. Bernard's Church, read a paper on the Dogmatic Thesis, and the Rev. Dr. Daniel F. Earke, of Highland Falls, spoke on the question of beripture.

THE STEWART WILL CASE POSTPONED.

MISS CLINCH'S DEATH CAUSES A COMPLICATION -HER WILL TO BE OFFERED FOR PROBATE. A number of people were present at the Surrogate's Court yesterday to listen to the proceedings in the Stewart will case. At the last regular hearing the competency of the testimony of Mrs. Prescott Hall Butler was the subject of long and interesting discussion and argument. The case had been adjourned until Monday and on that day the court-room was well crowded with those wao waited there in patience until it was announced that the Surrogate had postponed the hearing on account of the funeral of Miss Julia Clinch, sister of Mrs. Stewart, who, as heir-at-law, had a one-fifth interest in the estate. Yesterday, however, there was another disappointment for the followers of the case. When Surrogate Ransom took his seat ex-Judge Choate, of the counsel for the contestants, announced on behalf of his elients his willingness to have the hearing go on. Ex-Judge Russel, of the opposing counsel, offered objections, questioning the authority of the Surrogate to allow the case to go on without the new hetrs being personally represented. Mr. Choate said that his clientwere willing to run the risk of the new heirs ques tioning the course of action that might be pursued by counsel for the contestants. After some goodhumored discussion between counsel and some whispering in groups, the Surrogate adjourned the hearing until January 28, appointing also January 29 and 30 and February 4, 5, 6, 11, 12 and 13 for the continuance of the case

The death of Miss Clinch aids a new complication to the case, although, as was said by counsel, it offers no serious obstacle to its prosecution. adjournment was merely a matter of precaution, that adjournment was merely a matter of precaution, that the will of Miss Clinch might be offered for probate and that her heirs might in turn be represented in the case. Miss Clinch and her two sisters enjoyed, according to the terms of the will, $10,000 a year each and the house in which they lived. If the will should be broken, the provisions made by Mrs. Stewart for the three sisters would, of course, be void, but Miss Clinch's heirs would still inherit her one-fifth of the estate to which, as her at law, she would have been entitled had there been no will. The adjournment is expected to give ample time for the offering for probate of Miss Clinch's will and for an agreement between her heirs and the contestants in the case.

A verdict was rendered in favor of the city yester day in the old suit, which has been pending for five years, in which Emil H. Kosmak claimed $50,000 damages. The plaintiff sought to hold the city poding of his cellar after his property. No. 15 Chatham-st. (now Park Row), had been con nected with a private drain emptying into the Frank-fort-st. sewer. The case was tried before Justice Beach and a jury in the Supreme Court. David Leventritt and Charles Blandy appeared for the plain-tiff and Francis I. Wellman and H. W. Wheeler for the city.

A SUIT FOR PERSONAL INJURIES. A suit to recover $25,000 for personal injurie sustained by Josephine, age ten, the daughter of James Donnelly, has been brought by him as her guardian, ad litem, against Charles Purroy, brother of Fire Commissioner Purroy. The complaint alleges that she was run over by a horse and wagon driven Purroy in Roosevelt-st., on April 25, 1886. Justice Andrews in the Supreme Court, Chambers, yesterday reserved his decision on a motion to vacate an order requiring the plaintiff to give security for TROUBLE ABOUT A PORTRAIT. Aime Dupont, a photographer, of No. 110 East One-hundred-and-twenty-fifth-st., says that on November 1 he employed Jacob Sterns, a crayon artist of No. 42 West Twenty-third-st., to reproduce a number of portraits in crayon. Among these was a picture of a lady, which Mr. Dupont says that Mr. Sterns has publicly exhibited, much to her annoyance Mr. Dupont's counsel yesterday applied to Justice Andrews in the Supreme Court, Chambers, for an injunction to restrain Mr. Sterns from publicly exhibiting the portrait. In opposition to the application it was stated that the portrait would not be exhibited and would be returned to the photographer if he would pay for the work done for him by the crayon artist. The decision was reserved.

A writ of habeas corpus was granted by Justice Andrews, of the Supreme Court, yesterday in the case of Frederick Witte, who was arrested on a charge of assaulting and robbing Mrs. Samuels at her home in Houston-st.

Katharine Schmidt, who was betrayed under promise of marriage by Henry Bunscha, a Tenth-ave. baker, and who sued him for $10,000 damages, obtained a verdict of $2,500 yesterday, after a trial before Chief Justice McAdam and a jury in the City Court. A judgment for $1,934 08 was entered in the Supreme Court yesterday against ex-Mayor William H. Wickham in favor of Jacob D. Vermilye, on a promissory note made by Mr. Wickham in April, 1884.

Justice Andrews, of the Supreme Court, has con-firmed the finding of Referee Frederick Marden, annulling the marriage of George and Mary A. Cooper, on the ground that he deceived her by falsely representing that he was Portuguese and not a colored man.

A JURY FINDS THAT FERDINAND CAROLIN SHOULD BE HANGED FOR KILLING HIS WIFE. Ferdinand Carolin, who killed his wife with a hatchet in the tenement-house No. 47 Stanton-st, on March 15, was yesterday found guilty of murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer. After Pre-siding Judge Van Brunt had taken his seat in the tified to his good character. Oscar Zimmerman, a cabinetmaker, swore that he had known Carolin for eighteen years. He first met him in Saxony, and knew all of his family. They were all crazy, particularly himself. The witness, who is a German, gave this testimony through one of the jurymen, who acted as an interpreter. When the last statement was made, the prisoner exclaimed excitedly in German, "You're a liar! You're a liar! He says that my cousin killed a woman. He lies!" The Judge directed an officer to keep Carolin quiet. The examination proceeded after the regular court interpreter had been sent for. Zimmerman said Carolin's crazy relatives were never placed in lunation asylums, and that they were only momentarily insane and not dangerously so. Being asked to name some of the relatives who were insane, the witness and the prisoner's father's brother, and also the cousin who struck the woman in an insane moment The witness said that the cousin's name was Franz Carolin. He said that the woman could never have inflicted the injuries upon herself in the manner described by Carolin. In the absence of both Chairman Rollins and Dr. Crosby, ex-Attorney-General O'Brien presided at yesterday's session of the Commission for the Revision of the Excise Laws. The subject of penalties was further considered and good progress was made. The provides that in the event of a Board of Excise failing to sue for penalties for violation of the Excise law person making the complaint may bring suit in the name of the Excise Board. Under this provision, however, it was provided that the Excise Board should not be liable for the costs of the suit, but they might be charged to the party bringing the suit. The Commission meets again this morning at 10:30.

TO DISSECT THE 10,000 POUND ELEPHANT. Philadelphia, Dec. 18 (Special).-The dissection of Forepaugh's elephant, Chief, at the biological de-partment of the University of Pennsylvania was begun to-day, and will take three months. The body weighs 10,000 pounds. The method of killing was the result of a consultation with Adam Forepaugh and Drs. Dolley and Jayne, of the University. Dr. Dolley says that it is intended to make a thorough autopsy of the brain, in order to see if there are any indications of disease, and also to determine, if possible, the cause of "must," as the savage fits to which the elephant was subject are called by the natives of India. The veins and blood vessels will be injected with an embalming fluid to preserve the flesh while the process of dissection is going on Professor Henry A. Ward, of Rochester, N. Y., arrived in the city to-day and will assist Dr. Dolley in superintending the operation. Dr. Philip Leidy will perform the autopsy in presence of the students.

THE PETROLEUM MARKET.

NEWS FROM THE FIELD AND RANGE OF PRICES The National Transit certificate market yesterday was dull and firm. From the field no news of sig nificance was received, for the reason mainly that the average trader, operator and holder of oil appears to regard "news" as some information which promises an increase in production which may cause a selling movement that will reduce prices. Any testimony to the unsuccess of the drill while the visible supply of oil is rapidly failing off is estermed of no importance. The general strength of the statistical situation is conceted but the number of speculators has strunk to such an extent that the few speculators who are left embrace the theory that the only way to make money in oil speculation is to sell the commodity short. When the attitude of speculation generally and locally is allowed for, it is surprising that any stability in the nineties can be maintained. Yet yesterday's dull market after ranging from 92 1-8 to 91 1-2 cents ended at first prices and the market closed firm in tone.

The range of prices and the total dealings were as follows:

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKETS. FEATURES OF NEW-YORK DEALINGS.

There was no new feature in the wheat markets yesterday. Exporters refuse to accept the figures be reported while a firm tone was maintained on even a stagnant home business. The option trading ran up to about 1,400,000 bushels but in its es-sontial features the speculation did not differ from ran up to about 1,400,000 bushels but in its essential features the speculation did not differ from those of the day previous. All the fluctuations were confined to limits of moderate fractions and the swinging back and forth revealed little change in the struction. Near the close a buying impulse from the West gave a firmer tone to the market but the final figures were a shade lower as follows: December, $1 05; January, $1 05 3-4; February, $1 07 3-8; March, $1 087-8; May, $1 111-12; June, $1 11. Cash corn was 1-4-$\tilde{a}$-3 4 cent easier on the taily figures of receipts but shippers took nearly 100,000 bushels. The options drooped early on a duil volume of business but ended strong, stimulated by an increased business due to Western orders. The market closed up 1-8-$\tilde{a}$-14 cent at 46-1-2 for January, 46-5-8 for February, 46-7-8 for May and 45-1-4 cents for June, Oats were more active and the options advanced 1-4-$\tilde{a}$-18 cent to 31-4-4 for January, 32-1-8 for February and 33-5-8 cents for May. The cash demand for lard was moderate, amounting to 250 tierces, but whether for export or not could not be learned. The options were stronger and ended up 2-$\tilde{a}$-4 points at $8-40 for December, 88-12 for January, $8-04 for the next three months and $8-05 for May.

The receipts of grain and flour reported yesterday at New-York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Boston were as follows: Wheat, 48-065 bushels; corn, 272,420 bushels; loats, 94,303 bushels; total grain, 44,848 bushels; total grain, 906,109 bushels; flour, 32,334 bushels; flour, 32,335 bushels; flour, 32,334 bushels; flour, 32

traversed a range of one cent, but it was a holiday market, with little news. The proceedings of the Milwaukee Millers' Convention furnished the bears with some arguments. If there was so much flour on hand as to embarrass the millers, why then, it was argued, the millers certainly would be less eager buyers of the wheat. The statement in one of the Milwaukee addresses that New-York had enough flour to last three months was a particularly handy phrase for the bears. May opened at $1 10 and got as low as $1.09 3-4. The primary market receipts were small, only 244,000 bushels, against 311,000 last week amil 564,000 last year. At Minneapolis the receipts were and 564,000 bushels, were not only small, but the inspection was poor. The close here was almost at the top, $1 10 5-8. Corn railied nearly one cent on a sudden letting up in the novement. The arrivals, 513 cars, were a little under expectations. The estimates for Wednesday, 285 cars, show a much more remarkable drop. Oats were shaken up again by the raiders, May this time going to 28 1-2. The break compelled a lot of "tailers" after the Milwaukee clique to sell out; but the clique itself did nothing. After breaking to 28 1-2, May railied back to 29, chiefly because of the raily in corn. Hog receipts everywhere in the West were light. At the yards they were 5,000 under the expectations. It seems to be taken, however, as due aitogether to temporary causes, bad weather chiefly; and had little influence on the provision pit. Even at the yards prices were not any higher. The changing over of the enormous January shortage to May continued.

On the curb May wheat sold at $1 10 1-2. with some arguments. If there was so much flour on
